Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Inaugural Lectures Delivered by Members of the Faculty of Theology: During Its First Session, 1904-5 The present volume contains a series of Inaugural Lectures delivered by members of the Faculty of Theology in the University of Manchester during the session 1904 - 1905. It is unnecessary for me to speak in detail of the newly-instituted Faculty, since Professor Tout has given an account of its constitution and aims in the opening lecture of this volume. Suffice it to say that in harmony with one of its fundamental principles the University is colour-blind to theological and denominational differences, and at every point, whether in teaching or examining, carefully protects the religious susceptibilities of its students from violation. It has been found possible for teachers of very different beliefs to accept this principle with perfect loyalty and, moreover, to work together in unbroken harmony. Who can tell what this may mean in the future for mutual tolerance and respect, for sympathetic insight into alien modes of thought, or forms of organization and worship? The lectures were delivered to popular audiences, and the lecturers were left free in the choice of their subjects. Though the standard of popular treatment fluctuates, the lectures should be judged as intended for those who, while interested in theology, are not theologians. A university sinks below the level of its privilege and duty unless it hears the call to share the gains of scholarship with those whose life runs in other grooves. About the Publisher Forgotten...
