States approaches to addressing these issues vary. Coordinating these activities between educational entities and Medicaid programs has been hampered by the lack of clear and consistent federal guidance regarding the proper billing procedures for Medicaid. Six of the 12 directors of special education and three of the five local school district representatives with whom we spoke expressed concerns about Medicaid as a consistent source of funding. Some state officials also specifically to issue guidance on claiming Medicaid for HCFA mentioned waiting for school-based services and administrative activities, which is expected to occur sometime in the year 2000. States and local school districts cited similar coordination concerns about State and Local Efforts coverage, or identifying Medicaid-reimbursable services; eligibility, or how Reflect Similar Concerns; to identify children who are, or should be, enrolled in Medicaid; and Approaches to Resolving documentation, or compiling service data, submitting claims, and Them...
